Japanese to visit GC port

By Dave Gossell
Staff writer
GRANITE CITY — The Japanese are coming. Two groups of Japanese businessmen and analysts will be visiting the Tri-City Regional Port District facilities in Granite City.

The first, the Japanese Agricultural Association, will be visiting the port on Oct. 31, said Port General Manager Bob Wydra.

THE GROUP will be traveling throughout the Midwest to study areas best suited to distribute agricultural products, said Wydra.

"I feel good about it. Our assets are so great in that area to distribute their products," Wydra said. The port is a key distribution point for distributing Illinois agricultural products using rail lines, roads and river transportation in conjunction with storage facilities.

The second group, the Auto Parts Manufacturers Association in Japan, will visit the port and other sites in the area on Nov. 12, Wydra said.

The auto manufacturers are looking for a site to manufacture auto parts.

WYDRA SAID a leading bank in Japan has completed a two-year report about Midwest investment opportunities. He said the port was mentioned in the report and that Japanese companies, such as the auto parts group, are now visiting because of the report.

GC will expand auxiliary police

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

A move to beef up Granite City's Auxiliary Police force was announced Friday by Police Chief Bill

The auxiliary unit is a vital element in the community's Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, formerly civil defense, and also aids police department personnel in performing specific tasks.

"I'D LIKE TO SEE the auxiliary force doubled," said Harris, who also serves as ESDA coordinator for Granite City. Current strength of the unit is about 23 members.

Men and women, 18 years old and over, are being encouraged to apply for auxiliary police membership, the police chief said.

Residents with a Granite City mailing address, including residents of Pontoon Beach, Mitchell and rural areas, is welcome to apply.

APPLICATIONS are available at the Granite City Police Department, 2330 Madison Ave., from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Candidates will be trained by certified police officers in the use of firearms, in a 40-hour course, Harris said.

Other training will consist of first-aid, CPR (cardio pulmonary resuscitation), use of emergency vehicles radio operations, emergency response and traffic control.

AUXILIARY OFFICERS present are participating in a "ride-along" program by accompanying police department members in squad cars.

This part of the training process enables auxiliaries to better understand procedures during actual emergency situations, the police chief said.

Applicants should be high school graduates or have a GED equivalent certificate and a valid driving license.

BACKGROUND CHECKS of prospective candidates will be made and persons who have been arrested on a felony charge will not be accepted, the chief said.

Residents who have mechanical aptitude and are willing to help with the maintenance of equipment would be especially welcome addition to the force at this time, Harris said.

Auxiliary officers supplement police personnel by affording assistance during all types of disasters and emergency situations when additional trained men are essential.

The auxiliaries also aid police officers with traffic control at high school football and basketball games and at other functions when large crowds are present.

Occupancy permit veto unopposed by aldermen

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — No opposition was given by City Council members Tuesday night to Mayor Von De Cease Cruse's veto of a revised housing ordinance.

The aldermen could have overridden Cruse's veto by a two-thirds majority vote. Instead, many aldermen voted in favor of the ordinance to veto the ordinance, which would have required occupancy permits.

"I DO FEEL there are changes to be made in the ordinance," said 2nd Ward Alderman Woody Moad.

Moat voted in favor of the ordinance.

"I CANNOT fault you at all," said 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, ordinance committee chairman.

Whitmer said there were flaws in

Moat was a member of the planning and zoning committee, along with Aldermen Lloyd Bailey and Bert Haake, that worked on the ordinance.

He added he had received a threatening telephone call from a Granite City landlord concerning his stand on the ordinance. Moat voted in favor of the ordinance at the council's Oct. 7 meeting.

"I CANNOT fault you at all," said 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, ordinance committee chairman.

Whitmer said there were flaws in the ordinance that needed to be addressed.

"All of us that read that ordinance know there are things that weren't quite right," he said.

FIRST WARD Alderman Casmer Skubish said the "quality of life" in the city was kept in mind when the ordinance was drafted.

"We had to do something to bring a decent quality of life," Casmer Skubish said. "It's a fight for Granite City and we have to work together."

"This ordinance isn't really a bad

Greathouse responds to critics

By Dave Gossell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Responding to calls for his resignation, Director of the Metro East Sanitary District Sam Greathouse said his critics do not understand the financial limits of the MESSD.

"Since I've been here, we've not gotten a damn dime. We operate on a $2 million budget and it's impossible," Greathouse said at a MESSD meeting on Wednesday.

A GROUP of East St. Louis residents and ministers called for Greathouse's resignation after an MESSD flood gate in East St. Louis malfunctioned two weeks ago, causing flooding in several homes.

The group criticized Greathouse's handling of the flooding and the failure to repair the flood gate before it broke.

Greathouse said there was no human error associated with the malfunctioning of the flood gate.

He said the district simply did not have the money to repair the gate, despite a report he received by an engineering company on Sept. 10 that said the gate needed to be repaired.

"WE'VE ALL KNOWN for a lot of years that something was going to happen," he said. "I can't do anymore and I can't manufacture money."

Greathouse said it would take about $1 million to replace the gate.

Greathouse said it will have to "borrow" from next month's payroll in order to pay for the costs associated with the flooding, including the necessity of hiring consulting engineers from another area and repairing state.

He said he has not yet estimated the district's flood costs. He said overtime for employees alone will cost $10,000. Greathouse said he is applying for disaster assistance.

"I'm not asking for a handout of me," Greathouse said of his detractors. "But, by God, I do what I can to do here. If I can't do it, then you should replace me," he told board members.

BISHOP HENRY SLACK, a sanitary engineer from East St. Louis, said he supported Greathouse 100 percent.

Other board members said they, too, supported Greathouse.

Greathouse confirmed that the district handles water originating from outside the district and yet those areas do not pay for the service. He also said the district has not received a tax levy increase since 1987, when the district was founded.

"NOBODY HAS EVER accused me of wasting money," Greathouse said. "I just get beat up constantly."

Greathouse also said criticism among some that he hires acquaintances as MESSD workers is unfounded.

"I'm a guy. I gotta know someone in his family," Greathouse said, referring to his long residency and wide acquaintanceship in the area.

OF THE ENGINEER'S report that recommended the repairs in East St. Louis, Greathouse said, "I haven't even got a chance to read it."

Greathouse said he advocated increasing the tax levy for the district.

He said the gate is still under 30 feet of Mississippi River water. He said other MESSD gates are also in poor condition and could also break down.

Something could happen to them

"I am God. I can't control something like this. I don't want to blame anybody and I don't want anybody to blame me," Greathouse said.

City to stop ambulance service

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — City council members agreed Tuesday night to discontinue the city-owned and operated ambulance service and to instead enter into a contract with Cencom Ambulance Service Inc. to serve Madison residents.

Aldermen Don Wilson, Charles Rockett, Don Garrett and Paul

Ashford voted in favor of the change and Aldermen William Gusheff and Robert Grieve voted against it. Aldermen Christ Costoff and Jim Hillmer were not present for the meeting.

Gusheff and Grieve objected that the city would be responsible for an ambulance call, and that the city will be required to renovate a building on McCambridge Avenue for the Campbell operation.

CAMPBELL said it could cost the city $20,000 to renovate the building, which is to be rented to Campbell for $1 a year.

"It does not make sense to spend that kind of money and get a return of $1 a year," he said.

Gusheff told the council he objects on three counts. He said he did

Aldermen approve TV sale

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Sale of Southwestern Cable TV Ltd. of Maryville to Cencom Cable Associates Inc. of Chesterfield, Mo., was approved 11-1 Tuesday night by the City Council.

The aldermen had been considering the sale since a presentation was made by Cencom Sept. 23. Approval of the sale by the council was contingent on a transfer of the franchise agreement.

SIXTH WARD Alderman Woody Moat voted not to approve the sale. Aldermen Judy Whittaker and Lloyd Bailey were absent.

Floyd Rogers, director of government relations for Cencom, spoke to the aldermen before the vote. He said moderate hikes are planned at the price on increases," Rogers said.

HOWEVER, rates could increase after Jan. 1 when cable TV is deregulated, he said.

"We're going to try to hold the line on rates increases," Rogers said.

Greathouse and Grieve objected that the city would be responsible for an ambulance call, and that the city will be required to renovate a building on McCambridge Avenue

Facility to teach job, office skills

GRANITE CITY — Teaching job skills to individuals with poor work behavior is the purpose behind a new program being developed by Mental Health Services, Southern Madison County.

A transitional rehabilitation facility is being planned to provide needed services to residents of communities in southern Madison County, said Alison Shores-Burner, coordinator, and Lynn Elliot-Fisher, specialist.

THE PROGRAM will be a retail shop, providing a simulated work environment and teaching various work behaviors.

Participants will also be taught job and office skills and the everyday operations of a business.

The goal is to train participants so they can obtain competitive jobs in the workplace.

The program will also benefit the community, they said, because once participants are placed in jobs, they will no longer be dependent on Social Security, saving taxpayers' dollars.

TO OPEN, Burner and Fisher said, $2,000 will be needed. Letters have been sent to area businesses requesting financial donations, gift certificates and gift items.

The following items are also needed to facilitate the program: a cash register, adding machine, clothing racks, display counter, full-length mirrors, pricing gun, clothes steamer, shelving, business sign and cards, bulletin board, office desk and chairs, vacuum, mop, bucket and computer/monitor.

Individuals or businesses with donations can call Mental Health Services, 2024 State St., at 877-420.

Burner and Fisher said they hope the facility will be in operation by January.

1-day course for area physicians

Donald H. Buser, M.D., Belleville, president of the Southern Illinois Medical Association, the oldest such organization in the state, has announced the 112th annual meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 6, in Augustine's Convention Center, Belleville.

The wives of physicians of the 9th and 10th districts will have a simultaneous meeting program with the Southern Illinois Medical Association.

Dale H. Rosenberg, M.D., Suite 2-D, 6401 W. Main St., Belleville, 62223 (398-5600) is handling registration and luncheon tickets.

Vernice Walter to aid campaign

Vernice E. Walter, of Granite City, has been named Madison County election citizen coordinator for Southern Illinois. Jim Clark's re-election campaign, state campaign manager Bob Hickman said.

"Sec. Edgar is pleased to have Vernice in this role in his re-election bid," Hickman said. "We think the campaign will have improved services for senior citizens in Madison County, just as it has everywhere in Illinois. We are eager to involve as many people as possible in the campaign."

MESD must rethink its attitude

There is no desire to make Shang Greathouse a whipping boy for all the problems of the Metro East Sanitary District. But his comments at an MESD meeting yesterday indicate an urgent need for him and others to rethink the district's goals and policies.

Greathouse is virtually a "one-man band," making many decisions and then implementing them. If this is to continue, he must broaden his sights. Flooding, with its health hazards and potential savings, cannot be considered an acceptable risk merely because present MESD funds are inadequate.

East St. Louis residents and ministers, citing flooding of a 90-block area, called yesterday for Greathouse's resignation. An MESD flood gate there malfunctioned two weeks ago, causing extensive losses, damage and inconvenience. The delegation cited the district's failure to repair the gate before it broke.

Greathouse said MESD did not have the money to repair it, even though an engineering report he received on Sept. 10 recommended the gate be repaired. He added, "We've all known for a lot of years that something was going to happen, but I can't do anything and I can't manufacture money." He said it would take about $1 million to repair the gate.

Greathouse said he now will have to "borrow from next month's payroll" to pay a variety of costs, including more consultants. Regarding flood-related costs, he said overtime for employees alone will cost $10,000. He is applying for disaster assistance.

Greathouse said, "I do what I have to do here," but conceded he had not read the pre-flood gate repair recommendation. He complained that the district has been slow in originating from outside the district areas that do not pay for the service. He also said the district has not received a tax levy increase since 1907, when the original East Side Levee and Sanitary District was created.

Many federal projects in region

Representatives and senators seeking re-election next month were unhappy that it took until late October for Congress to adjourn, limiting the time available for their campaigning. But many things were accomplished during the elongated session and there were positive steps toward meeting a variety of needs in this region.

The thick U.S. spending bill passed Oct. 17 included $2 million to continue designing a second new Mississippi River lock here (two miles south of the Alton locks) and Alton locks alone. In addition, the second lock will get $2 million from inland waterway funds (fees charged to waterway users).

Congress voted $85 million to continue construction of the replacement lock and dam, described as this area's largest public works undertaking in history.

Federal lawmakers provided $75,000 to meet operating costs of a 21-member commission that is developing the master plan for extension of the Jefferson National Ex-

The district for years issued bonds without voter approval, padding its payroll with political appointees, many of whom performed no work. A later state law changed stopped this abuse and, to his credit, Greathouse has trimmed the staff and worked to end the pattern of massive wasting of funds.

But cost consciousness is not enough when property and lives are endangered. The call for financial help now being made could and should have been voiced earlier by those aware of the hazards.

In its "watchman at the gate" role, MESD sees more clearly than anyone else when a tragedy is about to occur, whether it involves aging gates, overloaded pumps or excessively high water in places like Horseshoe Lake that must provide reserve holding capacity for unusually heavy rainfall.

"Something could happen to them (various gates) at any time," he said. "I'm not God. I can't control something like this."

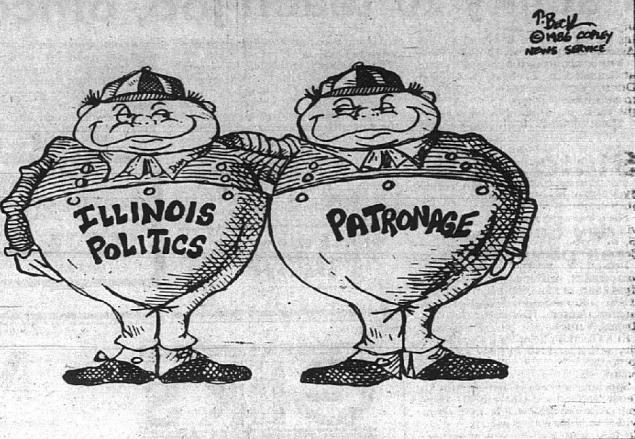

But Greathouse has been "playing God" with other people's future in taking such a dominant role and then allowing the funding wishes to lower his perception of MESD's minimum acceptable performance level.

These days he is blame enough for all when a disaster like this fall's flood occurs. But in his key position, he can do more harm than he realizes through negative or delayed reactions to repair and pumping needs.

Silence is not the answer when there are "sound the alarm" responsibilities. No one person should decide "we won't do this" or "we can't afford that" when there is so much at stake.

Along with the other MESD board members, Greathouse can and should look for counsel from the two county board chairmen who appoint the board; from this year's state's legislators; and other elected officials; and from the full gamut of business, labor and community leaders and planners.

Problems can be solved, in a timely fashion, by mortal men and women who have a "we can do it" approach.

Will Price win again?

With less than two weeks before the Nov. 4 election, do you think Rep. Mel Price will be able to win his 22nd term, despite the threat to his congressional seat being waged by Bob Gaffner?

Readers react

Jerry Lipchik,
Granite City

"I think he will. Mel Price won't have any trouble at all."

Robert Peach,
Granite City

"Yes, I think he will. I think he could have it this congressional seat for as long as he wants it."

Jack Pilger,
Granite City

"His age is starting to work against him, but I don't think he'll have any trouble getting back in. He definitely is for the working man."

Vote privately for the best candidates

To the editor:

I would like to commend the person who wrote an article in your paper concerning the Nov. 4 election. The person stated that the voters should look at the person and the party. Democrats or Republicans.

I am an independent Democrat and proud of it. I don't believe straight party voting is any ballot unless all candidates have been given the opportunity to serve the people who have elected them to office.

I believe the voters should look at the qualifications of each candidate and the service that they have already done before they have run for any office.

If someone is not capable of serving he runs for office, why elect him just because he or she decided to get on a certain party ticket?

There are some good quality Republicans as well as Democrats. Voters will have to examine each candidate carefully.

Vote for the person that you believe will serve the people the most. We voters have the power and God-given right to vote for the candidates of our choices.

You, the voters, are somebody and the politicians know they need our votes.

Without your vote, they cannot get elected. So go to the polls on Nov. 4 and exercise your freedom of choice.

Only you and the good Lord know who you vote for, once you get behind the voting curtains.

Vote for your choice. The power is yours and you can exercise it on Nov. 4.

Go and vote. Make your own choice.

Concerned over occupancy permit fee

To the editor:

Dear Granite City Council,

Well, congratulations on passing the ordinance.

Once again, you council persons have shown your authority and have once again sat in the "saddles of leadership" positions in this city.

However, you people do not stop to digest fully your actions.

You are like "bulls in a China closet."

Are you, the Granite City Council members, going to pay the costs involved in enforcing these occupancy permits out of your own pockets?

Or are you going to force individual residents to pay the costs of your ill-conceived ideas?

Or is the entire city going to "foot the bill?"

Price unsure of facts on key topics

To the editor:

It appears that Congressman Price has been misinformed as to what is happening in his district. I am referring to the statement and subsequent retraction concerning permits to repair area floodgates.

The obvious question here is, who's our congressman? Our aging congressman says money has been put into the repair, and less than a week later his aides say he has backed off the statement, that the funds were approved but not actually paid. The spokesman for another federal agency says repair funds must come from the municipalities involved, and not from the federal government.

In the light of recent exorbitant raises announced for the chancellor's staff and the less publicized $400 a month raises for some deans (above and beyond the regular July 1 increase), it doesn't take a degree in mathematics or accounting to know that something is wrong.

It's no wonder Price refuses to debate his challenger, Bob Gaffner.

If he is misinformed about something as serious as the recent disastrous flooding in his district, how could he adequately answer questions about other problems concerning his constituency and the country?

Could the answer be that he can't? That he isn't capable of fulfilling his duties or the requirements of the people of the 21st District?

I'm ready for a change.

ALAN A. DALTON, Collinsville

Says SIUE civil servants underpaid

To the editor:

On Thursday, Oct. 16, AFSCME (American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees) Local 2887 staged an informational picket at entrances to the SIUE campus and in front of the Rendleman Building.

Perhaps this demonstration was as it might have been. But university Civil Service employees are working overtime and vacation to try to let people know that SIUE uses your tax dollars to pay negotiators who stonewall instead of negotiate, paying extravagant fees to Chicago lawyers instead of using the services of its own legal staff.

In the light of recent exorbitant raises announced for the chancellor's staff and the less publicized $400 a month raises for some deans (above and beyond the regular July 1 increase), it doesn't take a degree in mathematics or accounting to know that something is wrong.

SIUE has the money but chooses not to pay its Civil Service employees a fair wage. Members of AFSCME were told as much at a recent luncheon at the Seville Inn.

Figure it out for yourself. Employees who support the work of a chancellor of a university the size of SIU who earns 117 percent of what the governor of the state makes surely deserve pay raises worth more than 65 percent of what other state employees earn.

Sheriff candidate a real professional

To the editor:

I have been a neighbor of Bob Churchich for over 30 years. I only wish every couple could have a neighbor as concerned as Bob and his wife, Jeanne. They both are the type you loan your house key with, get in touch with in the time of trouble or distress, or any other need they can help you with.

I have known Bob through his police career and the one thing I admire the most is the fact he is always trying to be of help to someone in need.

Bob is a professional police officer and a check of recent articles in local newspapers will bear this out. I have seen Bob change his plans to instead help someone, investigate a crime or assist in making an arrest.

Candidate is experienced, dedicated

To the editor:

I have known Thomas Voloski all my life. He is strong, determined, energetic, trained, and considered highly professional.

He is a person who has unselfishly devoted his time and energy to stand up for what he believes is right.

He has proven that no matter what the circumstances, people are free to stand up for their rights and their families on what is right.

He is not only experienced, an excellent policeman in the City of Madison, but that it will be good for Madison County to have one county official from an opposing party. It will help keep the Democratic officials honest.

I frankly do not understand why the Press-Record, after endorsing Republican candidates all over the balk, chose to ignore an outstanding Republican candidate from here in the Quad-Cities to endorse his opponent from the other end of the county.

I am urging all of my friends to vote for Tom Voloski on Nov. 4.

JOHN MANGARACINO
3168 Aubrey Ave.

To the editor:

I am a former Democratic representative. I believe that a person's political beliefs in backing political candidates on the basis of personal ability, rather than party label, that is why I support Tom Voloski for sheriff of Madison County.

I have known Tom for 30 years. He is intelligent, honest, and has been an excellent policeman in the City of Madison, but that it will be good for Madison County to have one county official from an opposing party. It will help keep the Democratic officials honest.

I frankly do not understand why the Press-Record, after endorsing Republican candidates all over the

Mayor's drug program Nov. 18

GRANITE CITY — A candlelight vigil will mark a part of a program marking Mayor Von Deo Cruse's "D-Day Against Drugs" Tuesday night at 6 p.m.

The program will begin at 6 p.m. at Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave. A sports personality is to be the guest speaker, followed by the vigil.

The event will focus on the problems of drug abuse and how steps can be taken to solve it.

Cruse has appointed an ad-hoc committee to help plan the program. The committee consists of Walter Milton, chairman of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce's crime prevention and awareness committee, Jack Haug, a guidance counselor at Granite City High School, Detective Richard Schardan of the Granite City Police Department and Jolene Terrell, school board member.

The event will be open to the public, Cruse said. "This is one of the ways we can wake people up," he said.

State legislators honor

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer

State legislators and area officials will gather at 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 25, to honor Venice Mayor Tyrone Echoes.

Roland W. Burris, Illinois state controller, will deliver the principal address at a testimonial dinner at the Venice Senior Citizen Community Center, Klein and Brown streets, Venice.

STATE REP. Sam Wolf of Granite City will introduce Madison Mayor John Belkoff, who will serve as toastmaster.

Special remarks honoring the Venice mayor are planned by State Sen. Sam Vadaleben of Edwardsville and Mayor Carl Officer of East St. Louis.

Burris, the first black official elected statewide, has been cited by many for upgrading his department and establishing a merit system of employee hiring and advancement during his eight years in office.

A LAWYER and former director of the Illinois Department of General Services, Burris is a resident of Chicago. He is seeking a third term in the Nov. 4 election.

"Roland Burris has visited this area on numerous occasions and has many friends here," said the Rev. John Henning, general chairman of the appreciation dinner.

Madison County Board member Don Garrett will introduce the state controller.

ECHOES HAS served as the city's top elected official since April 1979. He was previously a Madison alderman, serving three years, elected from the 4th Ward.

He has been a resident of Venice for the past 44 years. The mayor and his wife, Evelyn, live at 321 Weaver St. The couple have four children.

Echoes attended Dunbar Elementary School and is a graduate of Madison High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsburg and is employed by the Metro-East Sanitary District.

SATURDAY'S PROGRAM will open with an invocation by Rev. Ed Bradley, pastor of Mount Nebo Baptist Church, Madison, where the mayor is an active member.

Madison principal attends conference

Kenneth E. Perkins, principal of Madison Middle School, participated in the 15th annual fall conference of the Illinois Principals Association Oct. 19-22 in Peoria.

The theme for this year's conference was "IPA: Meeting the Challenge." Members of the association, which includes elementary, junior high and high school principals and assistant principals, studied information that will assist them in better serving their schools.

The North Central Association hosted a luncheon featuring an address by Dr. John Corbally, president of the MacArthur Foundation and former president of the University of Illinois.

An evening banquet presentation was given by Ed Bradley, CBS newscaster and co-host of "60 Minutes."

Perkins presented "Project Lead," a student leadership program, at one of 19 small group sessions at the conference.

Those assembled will join in singing "Lift Up Your Voice and Sing," and greetings will be offered by Venetta Adams.

The musical interlude also will feature solos by Mayor Callie Moberly of Alorton and Harvey L. Haynes of Madison.

Rev. Charles Reggie Fields of Bible Deliverance Church, Venice, also will provide the piano accompaniment for group singing and the soloists, Rev. Williams said.

THIS TESTIMONIAL is the second appreciation dinner to be given in Echoes' honor. Two years ago, about 300 friends and supporters attended a similar function.

The public is invited to attend the event, and tickets costing $7 each may be obtained by calling 452-5124, 451-2132 or the Venice City Hall at 877-2412.

Charles Collins is serving as co-chairman and Anna Claggett, president of the Venice Park Board, is secretary of the organizing committee, Rev. Williams said.

The minister is pastor of New Salem Missionary Baptist Church.

FALL CAR CARE '86

Don't send your car into cold with its defenses down

Your car will present you with three challenges on cold winter days: starting the beast, stopping it and keeping wear on chilled metal parts to a minimum. Your batteries, like many car parts, don't work as well when cold. If you doubt your battery's ability to hold a charge, a mechanic can quickly check it. If necessary, and for insurance, replace it with a battery with 20 percent more cold-cranking power than the one recommended.

Batteries have it easier. If the rest of the electrical system is up to snuff. And in wet weather, worn points in the distributor, corroded battery terminals, frayed wires and dirty spark plugs will make for hard starting. All of them should be checked for winter.

When temperatures drop, the wrong oil will sit in the crank case like a glob of cold oatmeal. The starter is forced to turn the engine over and带动 machinery through mush, draining the battery's energy.

A multiviscosity 5W/30 oil is good in cold weather because it stays thin. The "W" stands for "winter" and means the oil will remain at the indicated viscosity in subfreezing temperatures—that is, it won't turn to butter.

If a powerful battery, healthy electrical system and thin oil aren't enough to arouse the car from a deep winter's sleep, an antifreeze/water mixture will keep the battery toasty, while others warm the oil or cooling system liquid. An electrical device that automatically starts the engine every few hours is also worth a try.

If snow is on the ground, warm the engine for three or four minutes before you drive off. Otherwise, idling the engine merely wastes time and gasoline. Just move into gear and accelerate for a few miles until oil and other fluids have had a chance to reach normal operating temperature.

CAR CARE MONTH

To ensure stopping in time, all-season radials will do for occasional drives in the snow as long as the roads are clear. On snow-covered roads are the norm, you'll need a full set of radial snow tires.

Just don't mix radials with cheaper bias-ply tires, or you'll get quirky handling, even on dry roads.

When brake fluid absorbs too much water and the temperature drops, frozen brakes will be the result. Change the fluid in autumn. Avoid using your parking brake in freezing weather, since drum-type parking brakes often lock up in gear instead.

Water often condenses in the gas tank and then contaminates the fuel system. To prevent this, keep the tank fairly full and add a can of "fuel-line antifreeze" every so often.

It would be wise to add antifreeze/detergent to your windshield-washer container.

Because the cooling system holds most of your car's water, drive carefully after a rain. Fill with a 50-50 mix of antifreeze and water. If your winter is extremely cold, make it a 70-30 mix.

If your engine has aluminum components, as many European and Japanese cars do, use an antifreeze recommended by the manufacturer. Antifreeze not only does what its name implies, but it also prevents engine corrosion and aluminum is more prone to dissolve than iron.

Tire Trouble

Air is as important to the life of an automobile tire as oil is to the life of an engine, says the Automotive Information Council. In fact, keeping the correct amount of air in your tires is probably the least expensive maintenance chore you can do for your car.

Under-inflation of a tire can cut tread life, reduce fuel economy and cause vehicle handling problems.

Improper air pressure in the tire reduces tread life because the sidewalls flex too much during a loss of air or heat. Properly inflated tires simply roll easier and can significantly improve poor gas mileage. And under-inflation of one or more tires can cause handling problems like tire drifting to one side. These handling problems can be magnified during emergency braking on slick surfaces, posing a serious threat.

Regular use of an accurate tire pressure gauge is important. Tire pressure gauges can be purchased for just a few dollars in auto, hardware and department stores. Always inflate tires to the pressure recommended by the vehicle manufacturer. You'll find the recommendation in the owner's manual, and it is usually listed on the driver's side door. Never exceed the maximum allowable air pressure marked on the sidewall of the tire.

Some motorists check the tire pressure just looking at the tire to see if it appears low. This won't work if your car has radial tires which have a natural appearance of being low. It's next to impossible to guess whether radials are properly inflated, the council says.

All tires, regardless of their construction, lose air over a period of time and should be checked every couple of weeks, the council points out. When you check the tire inflation, remember to look for uneven or excessive tire wear, cuts and stones in the treads, it adds.

FALL CAR CARE '86

Shuddering stop sign brakes need servicing

A tip-off that brakes need servicing is when the pedal feels like it's pulsating or moving up and down under your foot. Instead of simply ignoring the problem, the car will shudder to a stop.

While this condition may be due to loose wheel bearings or brake parts, the most common cause is warped brake rotors or drums that are out of true. Assuming the drums or rotors are still safe for further use, the problem is usually corrected easily.

The accepted cure, generally, is to have a brake shop remove the distortion by machining the parts or replace them if the condition has gone on too long; however, new parts may be needed.

Heat is the most common cause of warped drums or rotors, says Carl Garey, who with a limited portion of heavy braking such as might be encountered on a long downgrade with a trailer in tow, can cause extremely high brake temperatures. This heat, in addition to damaging brake shoes and/or pads, can distort drums and rotors.

Motorists should make note of changes in braking action and, as soon as possible after abnormalities are noticed, have a qualified technician inspect the vehicle. When the brakes are serviced, be sure to inspect pads and linings and replace as needed. Have wheel bearings repacked. It's a convenient time to have this work done and, if an overheating condition exists, the bearings may require repacking with fresh grease.

Care Care Month interrelates to cleaner air

The observance of National Car Care Month during October as a means of promoting clean air, fuel economy and highway safety has been an awareness across the country has been endorsed by the American Lung Association.

Better car care on the part of motorists not only would improve vehicle operating efficiency and vehicle emissions, but would greatly reduce air pollution as well, the association says.

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) statistics show that more than 50 percent of all air pollution is attributable to motor vehicles. Two major causes of this problem are the legal practices of fuel switching and fuel tampering. Fuel switching, also called misfueling, involves the introduction of leaded fuel into a vehicle originally designed for unleaded fuel. Vehicles introduced after 1975 are equipped with catalytic converters which cannot be used effectively by the use of leaded fuel.

Pollution control tampering concerns the disablement of any component of an emission control system through either deliberate or inadvertent action, or through neglect.

Both of these practices result in increased air pollution and air violations at federal, state, repair service stations, fleet operators, muffler shops, and fuel distributors engaging in these activities are subject to heavy fines. One out of every five cars with faulty emission systems show evidence of tampering or misfueling, according to a recent survey by the EPA.

Motorists who indulge in tampering and fuel switching often mistakenly believe that by using unleaded gas they are saving money and also getting better performance. Actually, neither is true. Leaded gas will cost them more than the long run cost of unleaded gas plus life cycle costs of the exhaust system and destroys the catalytic converter device.

The noxious gases emitted by tampering and fuel switching - carbon monoxide and nitrogen oxides - are harmful to everyone, but they particularly affect children, the elderly, pregnant women and persons suffering from heart disease and respiratory diseases such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis and asthma.

the Lung Association says. Some of the hydrocarbons are also known to cause cancer.

Vehicles equipped with properly functioning emission control systems emit up to 90 percent less pollution than uncontrolled vehicles.

The American Lung Association is in the effort to promote car care by alerting motorists across the country to do the following:

- Have your auto checked regularly to make sure emission control systems and other equipment are in good working order, and;

- Contact your local Lung Association for additional information on air pollution, pollution control tampering and fuel switching. (In St. Louis, call Jo Gallo at 645-5505.)

Knowledge on locking brakes prevents auto catastrophes

It's the dead of winter. The streets are as slick as a hockey rink. You're driving home from the supermarket, noticing all the victims - fender-benders, accidents who are usually caused alongside for patrol cars. You're wondering what ever possessed you to go out on a day like this, when suddenly...

...a skid bursts into your path. There's no time to think about it. In a fraction of a second you let out your foot jamming the brake. What happened?

Do you narrowly avert disaster as the car glides smoothly to a stop just short of the big piece of blowing cardboard?

If the car skids wildly out of control, spinning like a top through a busy intersection, finally coming to rest against a lampost?

Or do you suddenly apply your brakes hard, the friction of the brake discs (or drums) inside the wheels can be stronger than the "fires" traction on the road, so the brakes "lock"? Some, or all, of the wheels stop turning and you can't steer the car.

Brake-lock skids are so common in high-speed or slick-street traffic accidents that police officers and insurance adjusters can usually tell who was at fault by studying the skid marks.

Here's how to avoid brake-lock skids in the car:

Pay attention to the car's handling whether the brakes and steering "feel right." If the brakes on one wheel are out of adjustment, or more worn than the others, you may feel the brakes "grab" or "pull." Uneven wear on front-end alignment can also make the car pull to one side when you hit the brakes. Any of these conditions could spin you out of control on a slick road. Both of them is easy to fix ahead of time.

The less grip your tires have on the road, the greater the danger of a brake-lock skid. Ice is only one of the hazards that reduce traction. When you're driving on a wet surface with melted slush, if you're driving at 40 mph or more, tires can "hydroplane" or glide on the wet surface with no more traction than they would have on ice.

Even on dry pavement, the car will skid if you hit the brakes while traveling at high speeds.

You can avoid skidding on slick surfaces and even in wet or dry snow by "pumping" the brakes lightly, quickly and repeatedly pressing and releasing the pedal.

With not widely available yet, remember that high-tech innovations always come cheaper later.

Police news

SA Thursday, October 23, 1986, Granite City (Ill.) Press-Record

Man charged after incident with dog

Donald L. Winnie, 38, of 2817 Hardin Blvd., was charged with criminal damage to property at 8:25 p.m. Oct. 17 after several persons alleged seeing him shoot a small dog with a gun. More charges were filed against Winnie following a fracas at police headquarters.

The dog was the pet of an 8-year-old boy who resides on Nevada Avenue. The animal was still alive when an officer arrived at the scene and it is believed the dog had a gunshot wound to the left side of the body, the officer said.

The humane officer was summoned to take the injured dog away.

At the police station, Winnie allegedly was violent during processing. While being fingerprinted, he reportedly smudged the prints and was advised that he would be held until he cooperated.

At that point, Winnie allegedly struck a police sergeant on the right side of the face and grabbed him by the throat.

Fire fighting demonstrations, auto accident rescue techniques, demonstrations of fire fighting equipment and a visit by Smokey the Bear highlighted the two open house events.

At the Long Lake open house, the auxiliary offered a variety of crafts for sale and the Long Lake firefighters distributed smoke alarms to residents of that fire protection district.

Craft program at Women's Club

A craft show displaying items made by Lela Gunning was the main feature of the Nameoki Women's Club meeting in October.

She created and taught the members and their guests how to design and decorate small baskets. Mrs. Gunning has had her works portrayed in the national magazine, "Crafts," for many months.

Prizes, some of them her creations, were won by Mrs. Irma Thiel, Mrs. Mary Werner and Mrs. Millee Meek.

Debbie Burmeister, who was the recipient of a summer scholarship in art awarded by the club, presented some of her artwork and related her experiences at camp.

Participation certificates were given, and the group was invited to attend dedication of the Radio Information Service at Our Lady of the Snows Shrine. This service enables the physically handicapped to be informed of happenings in the world.

A general district meeting will be held on Oct. 30 at the Lutheran Church in Bethalto, with all federated club women invited.

The next meeting will be a potluck luncheon at the Harold Brown Recreation Center on Nov. 19 at noon.

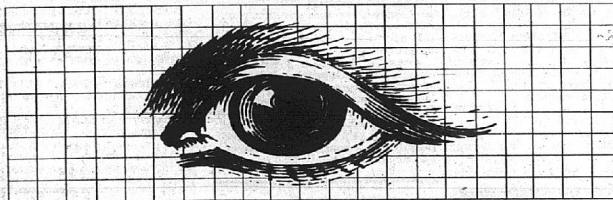

Members of the club present were: Dolores Allen, Ethel Beeler, Blanche Blake, Mildred Branding, Bernadine Cooley, Doris Greve, Mildred Jungsels, Maxine Maas, Dorothy McCauley, Millee Meek, Vicki Neff, Ethel Marion Seltzer, Verma Stuart, Linda Taylor, Ella Wade and Mary Werner.

The Latest Technology in Eye Surgery Now is Close to Home

SURGICAL LASERS ARE NO LONGER A THING OF THE PAST.

The most up-to-date surgical lasers available are now treating eye problems close to home, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

No need to cross the river for treatment anymore. Ophthalmologists Michael Rumelt, M.D., Edward Doisy, III, M.D., and Donald Schneidman, M.B., are using the lasers in glaucoma surgery, for treating retinal damage and in treating the after-effects of cataract removal.

Lasers use the energy of light beams to perform the most delicate functions. The laser beam does not cut the outside of the eye, only the inside membrane. There is no bleeding and no entry wound. The risk of serious infections and complications are greatly reduced.

The painless new procedures can be done in 5 to 45 minutes, on an outpatient basis. Don't let needless worry dim your vision. Find out how bright your future can be by calling 798-3013, Physician Referral Service.

Heating bill aid to start Nov. 1

Assistance for the elderly, handicapped and others in low-income households will soon be available through the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP), Gov. James R. Thompson announced.

Madison County has been allocated $998,306 and St. Clair County $1,463,000.

Beginning Nov. 1, the program will be opened to the elderly, handicapped and households whose energy source has been disconnected. On Dec. 1, the program will be opened to low-income families meeting eligibility requirements.

"As in years past, the state is offering a program to ensure that the needs of these special groups are given top priority during the influx of applications as winter begins," Thompson said.

For the year, the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) will distribute $46.7 million to local administering agencies across the state to help pay utility bills during the coldest months.

Eligibility is based on the number of family members and their combined income. For example, the 90-day combined income for a family of four must be $3,438 or less. Income for a single individual for the same period cannot exceed $1,675.

The program helps reduce energy costs by allowing eligible participants to grant to the household or by paying the utility vendor directly. Program funding is through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

"To avoid unnecessary delays in the application process, only those households that fall into the categories of the program should contact their local administering agency," Thompson said.

"People should have a copy of their heating and electric bills and income information available; this will also expedite the process," said DCCA Director Jay R. Hedges.

The Madison County Community Development Department is at 130 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville 62025 (618-620-6200, ext. 5105).

The St. Clair County Intergovernmental Grants Department is at 512 E. Main St., Belleville 62220 (1-277-6790).

HEART HEALTH

The human heart needs to do some hard work each day - at least during youth and the prime of life - to keep it strong and healthy. We must hug and puff occasionally for good health. However, don't risk heavy exercise if not used to it, without a doctor's examination. After using devices walk instead of ride - climb stairs - get regular exercise. Your heart and health will be better for it.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a person is injured in an automobile accident, the first thing that must be determined is which driver was at fault. It may be helpful to look at a hypothetical situation where the driver who was injured was rear-ended by another car. The driver who was hurt in this type of case often wonders what monies he is entitled to recover from the driver who caused the accident or from his own insurance company.

The first thing that must be determined is whether the injured driver is more likely to damage his vehicle. In this case, the drive of the front car should make an attempt to settle the case directly with the other driver's insurance company.

An insurance company in this situation will usually advise the injured driver that the front car cannot negotiate a fair settlement with the other driver's insurance company, he will have to resort to turning the claim over to his own company. His insurance company will then seek recovery from the other insurance carrier.

Another benefit which the injured driver may be able to receive is "medical pay" under his own insurance policy. When a person is injured in an automobile accident, usually his own policy will provide for payments for medical treatments actually received. Many policies indicate that only reasonable medical expenses" may be paid under medical pay coverage. Therefore, how much a company will actually pay can often become a contested issue if the company determines the medical providers have overcharged for their services.

Finally, an injured person is entitled to recover from the driver at fault under the liability portion of the negligent driver's policy. It should be noted that the party who recovers from the driver at fault may have to reimburse his own insurance company for any medical pay benefits which were paid to him. In this case, the injured driver's medical pay benefits must be reimbursed when there is recovery from a third party. Missouri Courts, on the other hand, have declared it unconstitutional for medical pay providers to seek reimbursement in this situation.

Under the liability portion of the other driver's policy, the injured person will recover for lost wages, medical bills, and pain and suffering. It is obvious that the greatest potential for recovery by the injured driver is under the liability part of the policy carried by the driver at fault.

City stops

not believe a strong enough effort was made to have EMT (emergency medical technician) personnel for the city-owned service.

"WE DON'T KNOW what they will charge the people now, and the ambulance service will no longer be controlled by the city. The city has no control on future rates that can be charged."

"We are taking away a service that was hard to get started, and we won't be able to go back to the same service."

"The city could not afford to buy all the equipment and an ambulance that it would take to operate the city-controlled service."

Alderman Don Garrett, chairman of the ambulance committee, said the committee worked hard to develop the proposal.

"WE TALKED WITH everyone we could find in the process of legislation and tried to work on every objection. This is a 10-year agreement and we have an ambulance right here in the city just as we had before," Garrett said.

"Some of the people who worked for the city ambulance service will be employed by Campbell."

"The council will not have to initiate another tax to keep the ambulance service. The committee feels this move will help to balance the budget by saving the city $50,000 a year."

"I thank the committee members who helped me work on this, and Robbie Robbins and Rick Tufts for a lot of information and work they provided for us to consider before making the final decision."

"WE WILL NOT HAVE to have the finest fire department in Southwestern Illinois and no one on the council should hesitate to vote for this. I urge every alderman to do so."

A spokesman for the Complexell company said Wednesday morning the cost of a non-emergency ambulance call is $70, and the charge is $90 for an emergency trip.

Senior citizens will not encounter any change in their fees when using Medicare insurance, he added.

The city will charge $10 for a city resident transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and $75 plus $2 per mile if the patient is taken to another hospital. Non-resident fee is $125 plus mileage.

Port

"Now they are coming ... looking for sites," Wydra said.

He said the Japanese auto parts companies will be looking for convenient shipping and transport lines and will be visiting related industries including Granite City Steel and A.O. Smith Corp. of Granite City.

The Tri-City Port and the area's industries make the port site a leading contender for an auto parts plant, Wydra said.

HE SAW STUDIES have shown that there are no manufacturing locations in the area, the local port ranks in the top five.

The port is cooperating with the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission and the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois in hosting the Southwest visit.

The Japanese will also be given a presentation at SIUE by the port and the two economic development organizations during the visit.

REYNOLDS, SIUE President Earl Lazerson is a founding member and past chairman of the Leadership Council.

Wydra also announced at the Port District's Monday board meeting that a grant application for a $40,000 state parkland grant.

THE GRANT is part of Gov. Jim Thompson's "Corridor of Opportunity" economic development and marketing plan. About $1.7 million has been earmarked in a seven-county area for marketing programs, he said.

The Port District would use the money to "market this area's assets," he said.

"We have heard that our application was the best," Wydra told the board members.

ROLE OF THE CORONER

Many people misunderstand the role of the medical examiner (coroner) and believe it is necessary to call him no matter what the cause or circumstance of death. It seems worthwhile, therefore, to clarify this issue.

The fact is that there are only a few instances in which the presence of a coroner is required by law. In most jurisdictions, for instance, the coroner must act ONLY in case of accidental death, death from other than natural causes, or the sudden death of a person not recently under a physician's care. The purpose of this is to determine the cause of death in cases where that is not otherwise evident.

In most instances, your funeral director can advise you whether or not the coroner is needed. EVEN IF THE CORONER HAS ALREADY BEEN CALLED BY SOMEONE OUTSIDE THE FAMILY, YOU ARE STILL ENTITLED TO CALL THE FUNERAL DIRECTOR OF YOUR OWN CHOOSING AND DO NOT HESITATE TO VOICE THAT CHOICE.

Kickers get first-round bye

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor
The regional tournament ended could mark the beginning of the post-season for the Warrior soccer team.

Granite City (14-3-3) will get a bye in the first round of Regional C of the Collinsville tournament and could very well meet Alton Mattoon, the team that knocked them off last year, in the semifinals.

The Warriors will have home-field advantage for the Monday, Oct. 27, game no matter what their record is. Regional games will be played on Oct. 30.

The regionals will be the first leg of a long journey that will take the winner to the IHSA state finals tournament Nov. 7-8 at Palatine High School.

In the regional tournament, Granite City dropped a 1-0 decision to Marquette in 1983, but looks to rebound. The Warriors are seeking their first trip to the state tournament since 1983.

In first-round games Saturday, Wood River plays Marquette in a preliminary contest, with the winner to play at Decatur. Madison will play at Alton while Roxana meets Bethalto (Civic Memorial). The winners of the latter two games will also meet on Oct. 27.

Home field during the regionals will be the team with the better overall record.

The regional champion will advance to the sectionals at SIU-Edwardsville on Nov. 1.

There are three other regionals which feed into the sectional: Here's a breakdown of what's to be played:

Regional A: Waterloo at Belleville East; Mascoutah at Cahokia; Gibault at Althoff; and Carbondale at Belleville West.

Regional B: Wescelin at Collinsville; Highland at O'Fallon; Metro-East Lutheran at Edwardsville; and Lebanon at Triad.

Regional D: Stephen Decatur at Mattoon, with the winner to face Chatham Glenwood; Charleston at Decatur St.;

Teresa, with the winner to face Decatur. Madison will play at Alton while Roxana meets Bethalto (Civic Memorial). The winners of the latter two games will also meet on Oct. 27.

Home field during the regionals will be the team with the better overall record.

The regional champion will advance to the sectionals at SIU-Edwardsville on Nov. 1.

The sectional championship game will be played Tuesday, Nov. 4. The winner advances to the state quarterfinals and meets the winner of the St. Charles Sectional in the third game of the state tournament at 5:30 p.m. on Nov. 7.

In other pairings for the state finals, the Hinsdale South winner will meet the Palatine winner; the Chicago Public League survivor meets the Pekin Sectional winner; and the Park Grove Village winner meets the Glenbrook North Sectional champion.

This will mark the fourth time the state soccer tourna-

Warriors host regional

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

One of the first stops on the road to the Illinois Class AA volleyball state championships will be made in Granite City next week.

The Warriors will host one of 56 statewide regional tournaments beginning next Tuesday night at Memorial Gymnasium at the "Road to Springfield" boys.

Don Deterding's spikers will be joined by Edwardsville, Roxana and St. Jacob (Triad) in the four-team regional, which has semifinal games slated for Tuesday night. The championship game of the regional will be Thursday evening, Oct. 30.

Although the Warriors, who finish the regular season with a match tonight at home against Belleville East, will enter the regional with a 10-6 record mark around .500, they know anything can happen when the post-season begins. But the Tigers of Edwardsville will have to be considered the favorites to emerge from Granite City and advance to the sectionals at Belleville East the week of Nov. 3.

Edwardsville (18-4) takes on Roxana (12-6) at 6:30 p.m. Then Deterding, the long-time boys basketball coach in Granite City, will begin his first post-season of volleyball action when his Warriors take the court at 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Thursday's title game will be at 7 p.m. Last year's regional, held at Edwardsville, Wilma Schulze's last team, defeated Triad in the first round, then only to fall to the Lady Tigers in the regional final. The sectional was held at Granite City last year, with Belleville West upending East St. Louis for the title. The Marchers lost in the state quarterfinals.

The winner of the Granite City regional will join winners from Belleville East, East St. Louis and Civic Memorial (Bethalto) at the Belleville East Sectional Nov. 4-6. The Granite City winner will take on the East St. Louis winner at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 4, while the Belleville West winner will take on the Civic Memorial winner immediately after that match.

The title game will be at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 6, with the winner advancing to the Salem Super-Sectional on Saturday, Nov. 7, against the winner of the Dundee Grove (South) Sectional. That match would begin at 7 p.m.

Winners of the seven super-sectionals (Oak Forest, Normal Franklin Park, Dixon, Peoria, Springfield, Grand Island-Salem) plus the Chicago Public League winner will converge on the Prairie Capital Convention Center for the state finals Nov. 14-15.

Here's a look at the other three regionals which will feed into the Belleville East Sectional (all two-match sessions begin at 6:30 p.m., while one

Of the Mets, Kahoks and Warriors

Quickfacts and notes from one observer:

Isn't it great that the Mets are in the World Series this year? It gives almost everyone a chance to root against somebody.

Mets fans can be found everywhere. Most fans despise the Mets' arrogance and "In your face" attitude.

The New Yorkers think they are the Second Coming of the 1927 Yankees. What makes them so great is because they played great. But when they lose, it's because somebody must be throwing scuff-lins baseballs. Give me a break.

When Granite City and Collinsville met to play soccer, you can always count on two things: (A) It will be a low-scoring game, and (B) there will usually be 40 or more fouls called by the officials.

Tuesday's 1-0 Warrior victory was no different.

In their same program, the Collinsville Kahoks claim area dominance by listing the fact they have won the Southwestern Conference soccer championship from 1977-83, and boast they are only school to accomplish such a feat.

That's fine, but the Kahoks, however, fail to point out that during those years, arch-rival Granite City South was not a member of the SWC. Until 1992, the Warriors were members of the Gateway West Conference.

Granite City did not rejoin the SWC until 1994, and subsequently tied with Alton and Collinsville for the crown.

Since 1972, when the Kahoks began varsity soccer, they have had an overall record of 116-27 against Granite City teams.

When the Warrior football team invades Alton's Public Schools Stadium this Friday, Granite City will be looking to end a two-game losing streak.

The Warriors haven't won since they shocked East St. Louis on Oct. 4.

Granite City defied the norm last week by scheduling Springfield Griffin, a powerful opponent, for its Homecoming game. Most schools schedule Cupcake High so

Time running out on Warriors' playoff hopes

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor
The Warriors hope to get invited to the IHSA's post-season football party, they need to right themselves with a win.

As cold as it may seem, that's the bottom line. As Granite City enters the final two weeks of the season, the Warriors hope to accomplish two goals.

One, would be to make the playoffs. Granite City has only made two post-season appearances in its history — both by North High School (1974 and 1981).

Two, is to win the Southwestern Conference championship, something a Granite City team has not done since 1946. The SWC champion gets an automatic playoff berth.

"If we win one of our next two games we have a chance (at the playoffs)," said Granite City coach Ron Yates. "If we win both of them we are in. It's as simple as that."

Entering Friday's game at Alton (Kickoff is 8 p.m. at Public Schools Stadium), Granite City sits at 5-2 and is 3-0 in the conference. The Warriors play Belleville East in two weeks to end their regular season.

It won't be easy for the Warriors, looking to snap a two-game losing streak. Alton (1-6, including four forfeit losses) will be looking to settle a score.

For the first year in a row, the roles were reversed. Alton was heading to a possible playoff berth and were ambushed by Granite City.

"I'm sure they are just waiting to pay us back," Yates said.

"They will be primed for this game."

The Warriors have fate in their own hands, all they have to do is grab it.

"We have a lot to motivate ourselves," Yates said. "But, and I hate to keep using that same word, we have to stay out of tension and get back to the level we were (against East St. Louis)."

Granite City lost a tough 17-14 decision to Springfield Griffin last week after being stopped on a fourth-and-short situation late in the game.

"The films showed we got the first down," Yates said. "We got a big spot. But we can't make excuses, we still lost the game. You have to learn to play with the human element."

Despite the loss, the Warriors were an offensive dynamo, grinding out 431 yards in total offense. It was vintage Granite City, a blue collar team who worked hard to move the ball.

"That's the way we have to play," Yates said. "Offensively, we got our confidence back after

Stars beat rain, but not Flo

By Dave Whaley

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The scheduled starting time of Wednesday's soccer game at Granite City Campus against Florissant Valley was 3 p.m.

But the game actually got started about five minutes early. The rain, which had been enough to keep everyone dry, as a light rain began to fall minutes after the game ended, but the early start didn't catch the Norsemen napping.

"Flo Valley got a goal just 1:48 into the game and another one in the final two minutes of the first half in cruising to a 3-0 win over the Stars in a Midwestern Community College Athletic Conference game."

The game was the second meeting ever for the Stars than last week's 7-1 debacle at Flo Valley, when the Norsemen's Joe Becher and Rich Lyons each had hat tricks as the home team scored six goals in the second half, but the result was the same.

"It was somewhat better — scorewise," said Stars coach Larry Petri. "Really, if you take away about two minutes of play, we played even with them in the first half."

Actually, everything was fine for the middle 41 minutes of the half. But the first and last two minutes told the tale. Coach Petri said both coaches' halves will tell you the worst possible things a team can do is allow a goal in the first couple minutes of a period/half or the last couple minutes. The Stars did both.

Even before the stars started playing at 3 p.m., Flo Valley had assumed a 1-0 lead on a bit of a gift goal. The Norsemen had a corner kick from the right of GCC goalie Chris Sondkers. The kick came in front, but the Stars controlled. Unfortunately, the weak kick to clear the ball went directly into the Norsemen's midfielder Ron Schonhoff about 10 yards from the goal. His left-foot shot got past a screened Sondkers at 1:48.

Granite City had a chance of the half to tie it back at 9:00 mark, when midfielder David Schilling picked up a loose ball 30 yards out and let go a good shot that had Flo Valley keeper Heath Ward beaten, but it just cleared the crossbar. Darryl Frauenthal took a turn in goal a few minutes later after Sondkers had come way out to stop Warren Dey. Becher scooped up the rebound and beat Sondkers out of position but Frauenthal was in front of the net to make the save.

The Norsemen continued to play patiently, controlling the ball for the better part of the half, and they finally struck on a pretty play late in the half.

Mike Gallagher controlled the ball on the left side, then slid a beautiful pass across to Dey on right wing. His hard, low shot to the far left-hand corner easily beat Sondkers.

"Their second goal was really the only pretty one they had," Petri said. "Their first and last goals certainly weren't pretty. They were there to pick up loose balls in close."

The Stars felt they were in the game in the first half, but needed the first goal of the second half. That would be tough against a team that had allowed only seven goals all season instead of Flo Valley's seven in the play with Sondkers having to come up with big saves on Bill Murphy and Schonhoff early.

But the Norsemen finally broke through for a 3-0 lead at 6:30 on a play similar to their first goal.

Venice spikers down Madison

By Gary King

VENICE — Sometimes your best isn't good enough. And sometimes your best isn't really your best. Just ask Madison volleyball coach Carol Cole.

When Cole's spikers took to the court against rivals Venice Tuesday afternoon, they were missing two of their key starters, Tammy Deal and sophomore LaGloria Marshall. Deal was sidelined with a case of strep throat, while Marshall was held out of the game for personal reasons.

Even with one-third of their regular starting lineup missing, the Trojanettes still came out and gave the Red Devils their best shot. However, their efforts fell short, as Venice overcame two early deficits to win the match in two sets, 25-13 and 17-15.

"With Tammy and LaGloria out, that left two big shoes to be filled in our lineup," said Cole. "We brought a couple of girls up from the junior varsity team to take their place, but they both suffered from a mild case of stage fright.

"With Tammy and LaGloria out, that left two big shoes to be filled in our lineup," said Cole.

"We brought a couple of girls up from the junior varsity team to take their place, but they both suffered from a mild case of stage fright.

"I'm hoping this game will give us a boost going into the regulars Anytime Venice and Madison hook up in anything, there's a lot of pride resting on the line. Hopefulfrith.

"Overall, the whole ordeal was a disaster. It was kind of hoping this one, and we had plenty of chances to. We had a lot of opportunities to win, but we just couldn't finish them off. The power just wasn't there."

One of the golden opportunities of which Cole spoke came in the second game of the match, when the Trojanettes jumped out to a commanding lead early, only to watch it slip away behind the sharp serving of Candice Gray and Vicki Williams. In the end, Venice won the game in overtime.

"We're starting to come together and play better as a team," said Venice coach Clinton Harris. "Today we got some good serving from Vicki and Tammy (Walker), some good setting from Jacquita Walker and some good all-around defense from Lynn Burton."

"I'm hoping this game will give us a boost going into the regulars Anytime Venice and Madison hook up in anything, there's a lot of pride resting on the line. Hopefully, we'll use this win as a starting block to the post-season."

With the win, Venice提升了 its record to 7-9, while the Trojanettes fell to 9-10 with the loss.

Ironically, both Cole and Harris feel their squads have a good chance of capturing the regional title, especially since the two squads are seeded in the same bracket of the Assumption Regional which begins next week.

"I think we have a good chance of winning the tourney," Cole said. "We're not far off from being in the bracket."

"I think we have a good chance of winning the tourney," Cole said.

"I think we have a very good shot of getting through the regionals. We just need to get all of our players back, and get them healthy," the Madison coach said.

In the first-round of the regional, Venice will pair off against Assumption next Saturday at 6:30 p.m. If the Red Devils win that game, they will once again meet the Trojanettes, who received a first-round bye in the tourney. Thursday at 6:30.

ed their record for the season to 14-3 and took a half-game lead in the SWC with a 6-1 conference mark.

Had Collinsville won, they would have clinched the SWC crown outright. Now, the Kahoks will win their final game of the regular-season in order to tie the Warriors in the conference standings.

"One of our purposes tonight was to try and define our strengths and weaknesses we had in another meeting we may have in the playoffs," said Baker.

Through two rounds, the Warrior-Kahok battle is a draw. Stay tuned for round three.

another mark. His 10 interceptions puts him three shy of equaling the state single-season record. Now Botteron of Hazelwood picked off 10 times in 1982. Bret Melton of Kirkland had 11 interceptions in 1983. Curt Heibenthal of El Paso picked off 10 in 1968.

Senior quarterback Tim Hogan needs just 80 yards to become the second quarterback in five years to pass for 1,000 yards in a single season.

South's John Linhart, now at Webster, Illinois, threw for more than 1,300 yards in 1982. Hogan has 920 yards going into the final two games of the season.

Tim's brother Jamie needs just seven catches to set a new school record for most catches in a single season. The old mark was set by South's Tom Adams in 1982. He caught 45 passes for 529 yards. Through seven games, Hogan has 39 receptions for a whopping 620 yards (15.9 per catch).

Revelations 3:20 "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, will come in to him..."

The Scripture is firm on this doctrine: No man comes except the Spirit of God draws him. God has given us spiritual strength to knock on the heart doors of all people. He is not willing that any man should perish.

Let us understand that our hearts can only be opened from inside. We must open our hearts to let Him in. God is knocking in love, speaking in love, drawing us by His love. He truly wants us to open our doors.

If we open the door, He will come in and up with us. He will reveal Himself to us if we open our hearts.

Do you feel the knocking on your heart doors? Can you hear the Saviour's voice?

Will you let Him in? Today.

Examples of tatting sought for exhibit

The Madison County Arts Council is seeking examples of tatting from residents of the county in order to mount a handicraft exhibit in December.

The show, which follows last year's成功 handicraft of tatting, will be called "Tatting II - A Second Celebration of Homemade Lace."

Examples of tatting in four categories are being sought: linens, baby garments and clothing, decorative doilies and scarves, and Christmas ornaments (small decorative pieces).

The Arts Council's Senior Citizens Committee would like to borrow the pieces of tatting for two months to display them in the exhibit. All pieces will be treated carefully and will be returned.

Anyone who is a tatter or who has pieces of tatting may call the tatters' hotline at 636-8014 or call Mrs. Doris Bardemeyer at 636-3316. Pieces that are marked with name, address and phone number can also be dropped off at the MCAAC, 130 N. Main St., Edwardsville, or at M.B. & Anne's clothing store in downtown Edwardsville.

The public is invited to an open house and reception for the exhibit on Sunday, Dec. 7, from noon to 4 p.m.

Central Christian celebrates 85th year

Members and friends of Central Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), under the leadership of their minister, Dr. Manuel Tamayo, celebrated the 85th anniversary of the church's establishment in this community, with the Rev. Russell Garrison participating as the keynote speaker on Sunday, Oct. 12.

A former member of the congregation during his youth, Rev. Garrison graduated from Granite City Community High School in the class of 1960, from SIUC in 1965 with a bachelor's degree for teaching in the field of secondary education, and from Lexington Theological Seminary in Kentucky in June 1945, where he completed graduate training in the field of ministry.

From graduation until his retirement in December 1983, Rev. Garrison worked with the National Youth Staff of the Christian Church, with offices in Indianapolis, later spending four years as associate executive secretary of the World Council of Christian Education with offices in New York City, returning to Indianapolis from 1969 until 1983 as executive of the World Outreach Education Department and treasurer and assistant to the president of the Division of Homeland Ministries.

He visited over 70 countries and made three trips around the world. He is the author of many articles and books concerning various phases of congregational church life, including "Our Right Relationship Handbook" for adult leaders of junior high students and "This Is CYF," a guidance manual for programs involving high school students.

One of his later books, "Brief Prayers for Bread and Cup."

Ivan and Helen Garrison, his parents, have lived in Granite City for 40 years and are active members of the local congregation. When they joined the church, the building was at 22nd and State streets, where it had been erected in 1906.

Prior to that, the small group of people who formed the congregation met in homes along the bridge across Merchants Bridge in Venice. In 1902 they met in homes of members in North Venice, and later in a school building in Madison. It wasn't until 1903 that they moved to Granite City. Their meeting place was at Rosenberg Hall at 19th and State streets.

Since June 19, 1966, services have been conducted at the new sanctuary at 2020 Johnson Road.

The church has acquired a reputation of coming to the aid of various organizations in the community, and it has served as an extension of its ministry.

In keeping with the "birthday anniversary" theme of the day, members of the church were asked to bring birthday or anniversary cards with a monetary gift inside the card.

A special "birthday gift" decorated box was on display in which all the cards were deposited as members entered the church. This money will be held for a special project to be decided upon in the near future.

As a result of the offering, Dr.

Tamayo is extending an invitation to the community to share in the life of Central Christian Church through participation in its Sunday services.

Classes for adults and children are held each Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m. Worship services begin at 10:40. For more information, interested parties may call the church at 876-0532.

During the morning worship program.

An "old-time" Sunday School hour was held beginning at 9:30 a.m., including the singing of favorite hymns, collecting of birthday offerings from those with October birthdays, and Sunday School lessons for children and adults.

Following services, the congregation participated in a pot luck dinner and then there was an afternoon program of photo slides, singing, movies, and short presentations from groups.

To help young mothers without sufficient funds to provide for their babies, the Christian group collects layette items and money from the women of the church to be given to those individuals.

The congregation is enthusiastically preparing to embark on a new calling program, designed to interest new people in the community and young married people with no church home to join with the church in Sunday morning services and become acquainted with the congregation and beliefs of the Disciples of Christ denomination.

Many local non-members joined with the congregation as they celebrated their 85th anniversary.

Greetings were at each entrance to the building, beginning at 9 a.m. Visitor badges were distributed, and a special welcome was extended to stores after school and on Oct. 30.

The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund sponsors nutrition, health care, water and education programs in 117 developing countries. UNICEF mobilizes emergency relief efforts in response to such life-threatening crises as Africa's present famine.

All monies collected will go directly to UNICEF. Those collecting the money can be identified, as they will wear bright orange identification stickers and carry orange donation boxes.

After reports were given, a discussion centered on the upcoming ham and bean dinner to be held on Saturday, Oct. 25, at the church parish hall.

The event includes a fall bazaar and bake sale at 9:30 a.m. The menu includes ham and beans, slaw, cornbread, dessert and drinks. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and serving is set for 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Nominating chairman Ellen Waggoner presented the 1987 officers slate to be voted on in November.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

Dr. Claude Hiles, D.P.M.

HOT FEET

Feeling disturbing heat on your heels, walking or sitting? A podiatric exam may diagnose it as peristasis, an infection of the skin and underlying tissue covering bone. It occurs most often along the edge and bottom of the heel near the sole, particularly after the outside edge, a biomechanical fault causes the heel edge to rub against the shoe counter, giving rise to the heat.

A thorough podiatric examination identifies cause. Common causes are limb length difference, improperly fitted shoes and foot structural defects.

Podiatric-prescribed hydrotherapy cools inflamed heel. Acupuncture reduces heel pain. Custom-fitted padding under the heel helps relieve pressure.

Air Products recognized for landscape work

A corporate award was presented by the Community Betterment Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce to Air Products & Chemical Inc., 2220 Monroe St.

The award was accepted by John Brown, senior plant manager, during the 46th annual dinner meeting of the chamber.

The plant was recognized for a landscaping and construction project recently completed. Cost of the project was approximately $110,000.

An attractive solid fence was constructed along Monroe Street, trees and bushes were planted, and other landscaping was done to enhance the area.

EXTENSIVE LANDSCAPING and construction of a solid fence along the Air Products plant on Monroe Street have enhanced the neighborhood and cleaned up the industrial area.

For whom does the phone bell toll? You, as governor campaign nears end

SPRINGFIELD — Around $8 million is expected to be spent on the Illinois gubernatorial race this year, the rematch between Jim Thompson and Adlai Stevenson.

Despite all that money, it seems to be getting yawns from the electorate.

Yet its outcome and who does best at the polls will likely be studied by political consultants, campaign managers and college professors for years to come.

To much of the public, the contest may seem like pretty much a rerun of the 1982 race, except for the expected victory of an associate of extremist Lyndon LaRouche for lieutenant governor in the March primary, causing Stevenson to resign from the Democratic ticket.

Despite the perception of voter apathy by the media in both campaigns, there will be one of the most vigorous efforts in several years to get voters to the polls.

The Thompson campaign will spend about $4 million of that $8 million. It is putting a lot of money into phone banks all over the state to call targeted voters and also spending large sums in door-to-door canvassing.

Stevenson doesn't have the resources available to him to set back stemming from the LaRouche campaign since then, and that the governor's election will again "go down the wire" as did in 1982.

If there is a low voter turnout, the poll results will give Thompson a lopsided lead, not since Democrats traditionally tend to vote more in off-year (non-presidential) elections, although whether they will vote for Stevenson is still questionable.

Gary LaPaille, whose usual job is chief of staff for House Speaker Michael Madigan, was Stevenson's campaign director from last November through the March primary.

LaPaille said he believes Stevenson has a good chance to set back stemming from the LaRouche campaign since then, and that the governor's election will again "go down the wire" as did in 1982.

If there is a low voter turnout, the poll results will give Stevenson a lopsided lead, not since Democrats traditionally tend to vote more in off-year (non-presidential) elections, although whether they will vote for Stevenson is still questionable.

In a panel discussion at Sangamon State University in Springfield Oct. 16, following a closed-circuit television broadcast of the third Thompson-Stevenson debate in Carbondale, LaPaille said in both campaigns gave some pithy appraisals of how the campaigns are going.

Kirk Dillard, whose full-time job is Thompson's director of legislative affairs, said Thompson and his campaign manager, Greg Balow, are working hard to keep Ronald Reagan's re-election effort in the state in 1984.

That information has helped them better identify and target voters using high-technology computers as well as old-fashioned door-to-door canvassing.

"We're canvassing like crazy this election," Dillard noted, particularly in 8,500 targeted precincts around Chicago.

Thompson is also targeting 16 or 17 traditional Democratic wards in Chicago where Reagan did well in 1984 among white ethnic voters, Dillard added. "We want to carry or be sure the governor does as well in those wards as Reagan did," he added.

The Thompson campaign has established "offices all over the country" this time, unlike 1982, he noted.

Dillard said the campaign is also using the governor's campaign funds more wisely than they did in 1982, scheduling stops that will bring the maximum media and voter attention.

Gary LaPaille, whose usual job is chief of staff for House Speaker Michael Madigan, was Stevenson's campaign director from last November through the March primary.

LaPaille said he believes Stevenson has a good chance to set back stemming from the LaRouche campaign since then, and that the governor's election will again "go down the wire" as did in 1982.

If there is a low voter turnout, the poll results will give Stevenson a lopsided lead, not since Democrats traditionally tend to vote more in off-year (non-presidential) elections, although whether they will vote for Stevenson is still questionable.

Kirk Dillard, whose full-time job is Thompson's director of legislative affairs, said Thompson and his campaign manager, Greg Balow, are working hard to keep Ronald Reagan's re-election effort in the state in 1984.

As for Washington, LaPaille offered the theory that he may view the "Punch Three" effort as a test of his ability to get his $50,000 or so black voters in the city to split their tickets.

If that happens next month, then Washington could potentially run as an independent candidate in the next year, skipping the Democratic primary and beating, presumably, white Democratic and Republican challengers in April, LaPaille said.

The November election in Chicago will also be a scrum for the governorship between Vrdolyak and Washington before the big game next year on political control of the state's largest city.

Another panelist was Jim Nowlan, who briefly was an independent candidate for governor himself last year. Nowlan is a former state advocate of "issues" and eschewing the big money campaigns of strategists and media consultants.

Nowlan, who has held several posts in the Thompson administration, said he is concerned about U.S. Sen. Charles Percy in 1988, is sharply critical of negative 30-second TV spots that he says "only increase public cynicism for the process."

LaPaille said that from his own experience "one of the problems with the Stevenson campaign is he doesn't do what the consultants or we technicians tell him to do. We would say, senator, the public would like to hear this. He won't do it. Sen Stevenson is his own man. I'll attest to that."

Unlike the last big statewide election contest in 1984 between Percy and now U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, the Thompson-Stevenson race this year has been relatively quiet, battling 30-second TV commercials.

In fact, in this region there hasn't been much media at all. Stevenson's campaign budget is too skimpy to afford St. Louis TV and radio commercials, and Thompson will use it only sparingly.

You will probably be hearing from both of them either by phone, at your doorstep or in your mailbox before Nov. 4.

Lock, port, flood control funding

The Omnibus Resources Act of 1986, which was passed by Congress late Friday night, Oct. 17, is expected to benefit Illinois by funding the construction of numerous flood control, navigation, shoreline protection, water supply and other types of water projects.

HR 6 is the first water resources project authorization bill to be passed by Congress since 1976, and President Reagan is expected to sign the bill into law.

It contains 15 new projects for Illinois totaling $380 million in construction costs. Included are $22.7 million for flood control alone along the Illinois River in Clinton, $11.4 million in Des Plaines for construction of a reservoir as part of the Chicago Underflow Plan.

"In light of the recent floods in Lake and Cook counties, the authorization of more than $40 million in federal funds for these two flood control projects will, in the near future, provide needed protection for many homeowners and businesses in the North Shore communities," Gov. James Thompson said.

While flood conditions only recently hit the Chicago area, property owners on Lake Michigan had been devastated all summer by high lake levels, the eroded beaches and threatened homes and businesses built near the lake, he said. The problem has been even worse in other Great Lakes states, where many homes have been lost.

Faced with the prospects of continued high lake levels, Congress offered some hope for relief in the bill by authorizing a federal study of lake levels and the magnitude of current and expected shoreline erosion throughout the Great Lakes. The study will provide recommendations on criteria for federal participation in shoreline protection projects and ways to reduce high lake levels.

Other Illinois projects in the water resources development bill are flood control projects in DuPage, Lake, South Quince and Mercedo; Lake Michigan projects at Illinois Beach State Park and Casino Beach in Chicago; restoration of the Hennepin (Illinois and Mississippi) Canal to preserve the heritage of the state's transportation system; the 1900s repair of the Muck Levee on Salt Creek in Logan County; bank projects for the Wabash and Ohio rivers; modification of the Wabash River channel; Gravelyville wastewater treatment and dredging andifice control program on the Kankakee River at Wilmington to evaluate ways to break up ice that causes flood damage or bank erosion.

Illinois shippers also will benefit from the bill, which will improve water transportation by bars on inland waterways and for overseas shipments via the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The bill authorizes a second lock and dam on the Mississippi River south of Alton, still a major bottleneck for barges, and provides funds for a new side channel harbor for loading barges at the Tri-City Regional Port District, Granite City.

For Seaway shipping, the bill provides funds to rehabilitate the Eisenhower and St. Lawrence locks, the two U.S. locks on the Seaway.

Environmental progress cited

The state government has outlined its environmental progress, releasing a response to recommendations made by its top environmental advocates at an earlier environmental forum in Springfield.

"In March I met with the state's leading environmentalists from Illinois' top environmental advocacy groups to discuss environmental issues," Gov. James R. Thompson said. "More than 50 recommendations were made. Some have been accomplished through the solid waste initiative signed into law in September. More will be accomplished in the future through departmental programs and further legislation."

"The progress made is the result of a cooperative effort between the administration and environmentalists who believe we are working to solve our environmental problems, and this dialogue must continue if we are to ensure a clean and safe environment for future generations."

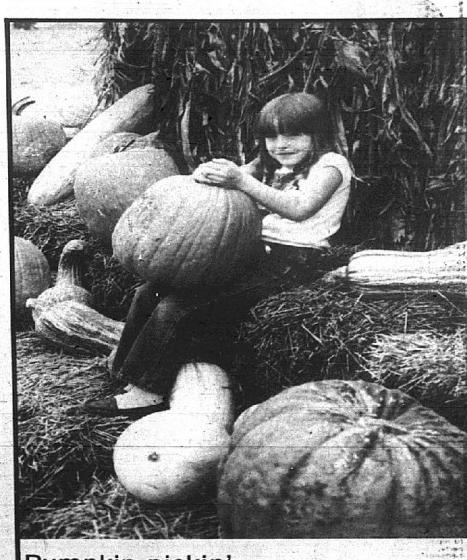

A 30-page response document was delivered to the Illinois Environmental Council's fifth annual statewide conference at Sangamon State University.

The report covers seven issues — solid waste, groundwater, acid rain, low-level radioactive waste, toxic metals, energy efficiency and environmental enforcement. It responds to each of the 54 recommendations of the Illinois Environmental Council (IEC).

"We have fought for many of the causes important to all of you," Tom Loeffler told attendees at the conference. "We fought to get a protected river designation for the Middle Fork of the Vermilion River — and we won. We fought to make the Rock Island Trail a reality — and our efforts paid off. The Illinois EPA has issued proposed fines for minor violations at landfills — and now the EPA has it."

"All of these were supported by you, both in your recommendations and in your efforts. Much more must be done, but with your help we will address the environmental issues that affect us now and plan for the issues that will confront us in the years ahead."
